"In men whom men condemn as ill
I find so much of goodness still,
In men whom men pronounce divine
I find so much of sin and blot,
I do not dare to draw the line Between the two, where God has not."
—Joaquin Miller.

As America's call for volunteers to man her defenses becomes louder and more insistent, we came across this little incident enacted upon our streets the other day; A husky youngster approached a Native on a spare-a-dime premise, said he had no home, no job and had not eaten for two days. To which the Native returned, "Buddy, haven't you heard the news? Uncle Sam is looking for fellows just like you. He will give you a home, a job, food and clothes and a salary." "But that," the panhandler demurred, "is not the kind of work I want." After all begging is easier.

Loud and long came the wail of the fire siren Saturday night that called Volunteers to action. Making an 11-mile run in eighteen minutes after the alarm sounded, the firemen raced to the farm of James H. Vermillion on the Carolina Road to find three fires burning in as many different places, two five-gallon gasoline cans and a funnel lying about and the tap of a large gasoline drum still running. A big barn, haystack and dump truck in widely separated spots were burning merrily while an 87-year-old uncle of Vermillion slept in the nearby house. The Smokeaters confined their efforts to saving the house and other outbuildings not then blazing. After a five-hour fight, the blaze was under control and the firemen went to a well earned rest. Fire loss included 1000 bushels of wheat, 600 bushels of old corn and many tons of baled hay besides the hay destroyed in

Gershwin Hart's Run Champion

Following a series of excellent performances, which netted him five blues and one second ribbon, Miss Helen B. Shaw's nicely conformationed brown gelding Gershwin was awarded the Hunter Championship by Middleburg Judges Otto Furr and Courtland H. Smith as the 3rd Annual Hart's Run Horse Show closed its two day program in Allison Park, Pa., last Saturday, August 17. His closest rival through the show was the handsome chestnut gelding Prince Devon, owned by Miss Jane Flaccus of Sharpsburg, who was accorded the Reserve. Both horses were ridden throughout by their owners.

Though both of these two thoroughbreds stand 16.2, Gershwin is a lightweight type, while Prince

Balkonian Wins Hunter Award At Berryville

Mrs. George Watts Hill's
Two Blacks Are Champion
And Reserve

Mrs. George Watts Hill's Quail Roost Stable of Rougemont, N. C., added another of Virginia's feature exhibitions to its impressive list of conquests last week with that perfectly matched pair of black hunters Balkonian and Inky carrying off the major laurels at the 39th Annual Berryville Horse Show which took place on Thursday and Friday, August 15 and 16. Closing the two days of lively competition, which was somewhat dampened by a series of showers and continual overcast skies, Judges Edgar W. Powell, M. D., and Maj. Gen. Guy V. Henry lined up the show's four outstanding performers qualifying for the Hunter Championship preliminary who proved to be Balkonian, Inky, J. Edward Barker's 4-year-old Spy and Mrs. Haggin Perry's well known bay mare Village Miss, awarded the four ribbons in that order and consequently Balkonian was immediately afterwards pinned the Hunter Champion while his personable stablemate came in for the Reserve tricolor.

It was the second of such triumphs for Balkonian within a week's time, as the handsome 16.1 hand son of Balko-Paula L. had come fresh from winning the Hunter Championship at the Bath County Horse Show in Hot Springs on August 9, when he topped George Lee's good hunter Lee's Birthday to whom he had been reserve at Deep Run early in June. Nor was this the first occasion on which Balkonian and Inky together had walked away with a championship and reserve this year, for they were pinned in exactly the same order at Norfolk's Tidewater Show which followed Deep Run in June. Inky has an

*Cottesmore Wins North American Steeplechase

Bests Emile Pfizer's Farndale
In $2,500 Stake At Saratoga
On Saturday

George H. Bostwick's *Cottesmore scored his second successive triumph in The North American Steeplechase Handicap when he took the 35th running of this $2,500 added 2 mile stake from Emile Pfizer's Farndale, Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's *Bachelor Philip and others at Saratoga last Saturday, August 17. The 5-year-old gelded son of Heverswood—Ruddy Dawn, who carried the familiar green silks of Thomas Hitchcock to victory in this same event last year, was the favorite of six starters and carried topweight of 150, while Farndale was second choice with 148 up.

Sanford Stud Farms' *L'Odeon, who has been improving steadily since he made his debut in this country on August 2, forced *Bachelor Philip to sustain a gruelling pace for most of the running while Jockey Slate kept *Cottesmore under steady restraint in 3rd place for the first turn of the field. Jockey Roby on Farndale allowed the renowned son of Forerunner to stay close behind *Cottesmore, apparently waiting for the Bostwick gelding to make his move. Thomas Hitchcock's *Rioter, winner of several brush stakes in the past, made a quick recovery after hobbling at the 9th fence, but seemed unable to improve his position at any time, while F. Ambrose Clark's 4-year-old maiden filly Night Heron trailed throughout.

*Bachelor Philip, who won the Georgetown Steeplechase Handicap at Delaware Park in June, displayed his usual speed, as Jockey McGovern sent him directly to the front, but was used up during the first mile in his effort to keep *L'Odeon from

Young Hunters Are Great Addition At North Shore Show

*Demas, Beau Soleil Take
New Division; Bond Street
And Little Flight Win

Introducing a "Young Hunter Division" for the first time in its 11 year history, the North Shore Horse Show, held as a Suffolk County Young Women's Christian Assn., benefit last week on the Old Field Club, near Stony Brook, L. I., N. Y. apparently struck a new and most responsive note for Hunter Exhibitors of the Northern Atlantic States. Replete with all the events found in the Conformation Division, the Young Hunters started off well when 26 were led out for the Model on Thursday morning and some 20 more were there for the Show. These young horses were also eligible for the Conformation Division, swelling these classes to goodly proportions.

Four judges took great pains with the eye-filling Conformation and Young Hunter horses at North Shore. In the final run down, the first tricolor was awarded on Saturday afternoon to Martin Vogel Jr.'s *Demas (Old Westbury, L. I.) an English import brought to this country last fall and bought on his past performance record in shows over there. James Maloney, his rider trainer, was up throughout. Dick Kirby, who now manages the stables interests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Duane Clark, of Syracuse, N. Y. had the pleasure of winning recognition with one of his choice. Beau Soleil, son of Sun Beau, bred at the Court Manor establishment of the late Willis Sharpe Kilmer, came straight to the shows and won his first Reserve in the

*Limerick Lace Timonium Champion

Charles C. Freeland's well mannered Irish pony *Limerick Lace was awarded the Championship over some 50 or more good show ponies at the 2nd Annual Horse and Pony Show of the Towson B. P. O. E., which was held at Maryland's Timonium Fair Grounds last Saturday, October 17. Mr. and Mrs. Danny Shea, who did the judging, pinned this handsome chestnut gelding 1st in the class for Jumping Ponies of the 13-14.2 hand division and 1st in the Touch and Out, while he was also in the winning Hunt Team with Anne Chew Green's Miss Virginia and Hugh Wiley's Chit Chat. The Reserve Pony Champion was Sonny Baker's good little bay gelding Spice, of the 11 hand division, who won

Apprentice Races Head English Meetings

British Jockey Club Discusses Giving Young Lads Opportunities Of Experience

By J. FAIRFAX-BLAKEBOROUGH

Although there is no racing until September the English Jockey Club and clerks of courses have not remained dormant. I have recently heard of quite a number of interesting subjects which have come under discussion in the constant endeavour to improve all aspects of the Turf. One of these is the desirability of putting apprentice races first on the card so that little boys are not kept longer than necessary with their nerves at such high tension that they cannot give of their best when the races in which they are to ride are late in the afternoon. The general public does not much like apprentice races because they do not consider them safe to gamble on. Hence many clerks of courses have in the past made these events the final contest so that those who do not care to remain to see them may leave after the fifth race and be well on their way home by the time the little boys go down to the post. Although it is in the long run the public which keeps racing going, when consideration for a section of it is antagonistic to the best interests of sport then the interests of sport should come first. At Newmarket on several occasions last season apprentice races started the proceedings and what can be done at Newmarket can be done anywhere. Not a few clerks of course followed suit, recognizing that for young jockeys just commencing their careers, it is something of an ordeal to ride in public on the first few occasions on which they put on silk. There have been discussions too, as to how best to give more opportunities for these young lads to gain experience. It is a matter which is worrying the Jockey Club that out of the hundreds of boys apprenticed only a tithe of them ever seem to be given more than an odd ride in public. This means that they never get a chance to show what they are made of and also that some trainers are running their establishments with very cheap labour—boys whom they undertook to train as jockeys but whose fate from the outset is that of stableboys only.

Another matter which is occupying the attention of clerks of courses is that of charges for admission to clubs and the expensive enclosures. It is generally recognized that these will have to be reduced when racing again gets into full swing. It is certain that unless there is a very considerable reduction in the charges for membership to many race clubs there will be wholesale resignations when racing recommences. It is also certain that a great number of those who regularly patronised "Tattersall's" will, failing less exorbitant charges, go into "the second ring". It is not generally known to the ordinary racing man how tremendously the overhead charges in connect-

Saratoga Sales Bring $1,226,725; Average $1,770

Number In History 694 Yearlings Greatest To Sell At Spa

When F. Ambrose Clark paid $3,000 for Mrs. Plunket Stewart's Milkman colt out of the *North Star III mare Moving Star last Thursday, Aug. 15, to close this night's vendue, the Saratoga Sales of 1940 very nearly soared to the $1,000,000 mark for the 493 thoroughbred yearlings sold through the first two weeks. Duntreath Farm's Man o'War filly, the first lot sold the following night, Friday, Aug. 16 for $7,500 quickly brought the total into seven figures, with still 200 individuals yet to be sold in the final four days.

At the conclusion of Wednesday the final sale night August 21, the last yearling was sold, bulging the year's total to $1,226,725, so that 693 lots had averaged $1,770 through the 13 sale sessions. This average was in contrast to the 644 yearlings sold in 1939 for $1,354,425 for an average of $2,103.

Starting slowly as this year's vendue did, with prices for the first night some 50 percent off, the Fasig-Tipton Co., managed auctions gained momentum through the first week, climaxed with the $204,550 brought on a single night when Arthur Hancock, of Kentucky, sold 52 head. His average was still almost 25 percent off of his 1939 figures. The following Monday, Court Manor, the celebrated thoroughbred nursery of the late Willis Sharpe Kilmer, sent 41 yearlings into the ring to bring $72,400 and thus become the first 1940 consignor to exceed a 1939 average.

Top price for this year was paid by Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, when she spent $18,000 for a Sickle-Friendly Gal colt. This top is in contrast to $22,000 (paid by Mrs. Sloan for W. H. Lipscomb's *Ksar-Duration, now named Romanov) in 1938 and $20,000 in 1939.

Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, whose Milky Way Farm string is well known, again was the biggest buyer, spending $78,400 for 14 yearlings, approximately $20,000 more than she spent in 1939. She bought Gallahadion in 1938 at Saratoga.

The 693 yearlings sold at the 24th Annual Saratoga Sales is the greatest number in history. Other prominent buyers taking advantage of these offerings were Walter Chrysler, Jr., who bid $54,300 for 14; Millsdale Stable, jointly owned by Anthony Pelleteri and Melvin Emerich spent $45,150 for 19 and Mrs. Sloane (Brookmeade Stable) $26,600 for 7.

The complete summaries of the final week of the Saratoga Sales will be carried in the issue of Sept. 30.

Masked General Whips Sickle T In Spa Stakes

Six-Year-Old Pompey Gelding Reverses Order In Champlain August 16

Brandywine Stable's Masked General turned the tables on Mrs. B. F. Whitaker's Sickle T. when the 6-year-old Pompey gelding led the favored Sickle horse across the line to win the day's featured Champlain Handicap at Saratoga last Friday, August 16, for it was in just the reverse order that these two finished in the 37th running of this same stake a year ago. It was the first time the two had met since and Sickle T. was the heavily backed favorite while Masked General was second choice over the one other starter, Mrs. Louise Vlau's Rex Flag, who was barely nosed out for the place. Masked General had fallen short of victory twice since his 4th of July Sussex Handicap triumph at Delaware Park and Sickle T. had scored four straight handicap wins, hence there was 5 pounds difference in weight with the latter carrying the top of 126.

W. L. Brann's Maryland-bred Aethelwold, son of *Challenger II, scored his second handicap victory of the Class C variety this season when he outgamed Circle M. Ranch's Get Off and others in a small field for the Springbok Handicap, which featured the Saratoga card last Tuesday, August 20. It was the first time he has accounted since he defeated Rex Flag in a similar affair at Belmont last June and prior to that he shared the Bowie Spring Handicap honors with I. Bieber's Conde Rico when the two ran a dead heat in that feature last April.

The first of Cavalcade's progeny to reach the winner's circle did so as the result of a 5 1-2 furlong triumph over 17 other maiden fillies when J. P. Jones' Flower Parade took the day's juvenile event at Saratoga on August 16. Curiously enough this bay daughter of the famous Kentucky Derby winner was sold at the Spa by her breeder William H. Lipscomb on the night of August 16 a year ago. She was bought by her present owner at that time for $500.

Following is a list of winners by sires from all East Coast States which have scored during the past seven days, from Wednesday, August 14, through Tuesday, August 20.

Hunting Notes:-

American Cubbing Has More Action Than English

English Staffs Stress Blood;
Rombout Shows Typical
Sporting Morn

By M. O'MALLEY KNOTT

I wonder how many people realize that the average hunting man has much more fun Cub Hunting in America than he does in England?

In England, they conscientiously hunt cubs and only cubs, usually in covert, blood the young hounds with many kills, and never think of letting hounds get away on an old fox in fact, never have a gallop. Generally, a small field sit on their horses, round the covert, and keep slapping the flaps of their saddles with their crops, to make a cub that is bold enough to break covert, turn back.

In America, we often find a cub, hunt him for a few minutes and are quite satisfied after we mark him to ground with most of our young entry up. Occasionally we kill but that is the exception because all earths and other holes are open and cubs quickly go to ground. Then, very frequently we find an old fox and when we do we hunt him with just as much abandon as we do when our regular season opens. Of course, some of the young hounds are left by the wayside and that is not good for them. It is like leaving some of your best working hounds in covert when those that shirk their duty get away on the fox they did not work to find. However, most of the young entry give a good account of themselves, for all good huntsmen have their puppies out from the first of July on. Cubbing does not formally begin until the first or second week in August in the North and, of course, later in the South.

Americans like action and I for one love cub hunting as we do it, and many young hounds that are left by the wayside when hunting an old fox learn in time to get away with the pack and become some of our best hounds. Perhaps a young hound being left out of a run occasionally makes him all the keener not to be left again and teaches him to have that quickness and drive we love in a good pack.

Certainly it has been proven that American hounds do not need to be blooded to make good working hounds as English do. Sometimes I wonder, if foxes were more plentiful and easier to kill as in England, would it improve our hounds or would they get more casual and lazy through being surfeited. I would like to hear the opinion of others who have had more experience than I on this subject. I would also like to know if there is anything that influences one animal over another more than the scent of a fox for a hound, for it is scent and scent only that makes some American hounds go on when they are sore and all in.

When they do kill a fox, which is very rare, they will not break him up and eat him as English hounds do, in spite of the fact that we have been trying to make them do so ever since we have kenneled, fed and hunted them as a pack.

On the 21 of April, the Rombout Hounds had their last day of the season 1939-1940, and a very good day it was, as written up very cleverly in the Chronicle by Miss Louise McKinney. They were out 120 times altogether.

My first hunt with the same pack this season was August 4. Most of the hounds out were the young entry; a little wild and all the pack very keen. Homer Gray told me the night before when he drew them, the old hounds knew well what was coming and he had a hard time to keep them in. What is it that makes some old hunters know the night before a hunt and old hounds too?

Well, to get back to the Hunt, I noticed as we mounted in the half light: Ben and Nancy Belcher, all the way from Lakeville; Joseph Dickson; Charlie Peckham, acting as Honorary Whip for the first time; Malcolm Graham; Mrs. Robert Burr; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schmeltzer; Glenn Folger, ex-M. F. H.; Bill Kay; Bill Sommers; Homer Gray; Bill Schermerhorn. These keen people must be like the old hunters who know the night before because no fixture cards had been set out.

We moved off at 5:30 sharp. It was a lovely morning; temperature 59 and a heavy dew. Almost at once hounds found and for the next ten or fifteen minutes their music stirred us as only such music can. Several were out on young or soft, fat horses, determined not to gallop but how weak we are at such times. I am afraid we all galloped for those first few minutes and hoped it would not hurt our horses. We soon marked our cub to ground with almost all the young hounds up. Homer made sure they all knew where that fox had gone before we left the earth. After that, the hounds settled down; horses and riders too. Most of this time, we were in heavy woods.

When we came out in the open and saw the sky, it made us rein up and stand still; that beautiful soft blue before the sun is up; small bits of clouds like very bright silver fluff with an occasional line of gold; not a stir in the air; horses hoofs wet and glistening from the dew and the whole world peaceful. If it only were! We went on subdued, talking only a little and quietly.

We soon found another fox; this time, evidently, an old one. A good many of the field then were willing to take it easy and hill-top. After about half an hour, hounds marked their second fox to ground. Then, as usual, we had a hard job to make Homer and Bill Schermerhorn call it a day. So we compromised on drawing one more covert on the way home. I was glad we did not find. We all got in at 8:30, exactly three hours. However, Bill and Charlie Peckham, after a cup of coffee, went back after two and a half couple of young hounds left out. They are the faithful that are never appreciated enough by the field.

I have often had some great runs, both in Millbrook and Rombout, in late August and September, and very often the scent seems better than in October when the fields are crowded and everyone wants to be out.

For those who have not experienced it, I can recommend early Cub Hunting either with the Millbrook or Rombout on those mornings when the Catskills look so clear and near one can almost reach over to them and all the world is peaceful and beautiful, while the day is still slumbering—just before it opens its eyes.

Delta And Mazoe Hounds Hunted Mixed Bags

War Scenes In Africa Recall Sport With Hounds On Boar And Lion

By W. Newbold Ely

The spread of the war scenes to Africa recalls a letter from Mr. Wood whom I met while a guest of Sir Alfred Booth of Surrey which I mentioned in "Country Life" or the "Sportsman" a few years ago. Mr. Wood was a veteran of Rhodesia where the lions are as common to their gardens as are rabbits to yours, and where the Delta and Mazoe Hounds have such mixed bags as these:

"The meet was at the farm 'Cave' at 5 a. m. and owing to the heat it was decided to draw the banks of a small stream in the hope of finding a boar in the rushes. No pig was at home, but an otter lying rough was put down, and an exciting short hunt took place before he was killed in the middle of a pool, but not before several of the hounds bore marks of the encounter. It was a fine dog otter, the skin measuring four feet, four inches. He was skinned, as hounds, not being used to this sort of game, would not break him up. . . . At the White Gambola River, soon after starting to draw, hounds were away on a jackal. Running into thick timber, they changed to a pig, and had an exciting hunt for about seventy-five minutes before baying up and killing—a six-mile point.

"The 22nd was a good day for a meet at the farm 'Naples'. Hounds found at 5:40 a. m., and after running with grand music for about five miles the pack divided at a large kopje, the Master sticking to twelve couple, and one of the whippers-in carrying on with the other six couple. Both lots succeeded in killing; the twelve couple ran into a very tough boar, who put up a tremendous fight, and before being killed managed to put in some nasty gashes in three couple of hounds. This was a hunt of eighty minutes,

Oration II Bests Candolette At Placid

With White Face Mountain, a mile high towering backdrop lending pastoral splendor to the cool meadow land country of northern New York and many enthusiasts of the year-round resort that is Lake Placid on hand, it was but natural that the 11th Annual Horse Show there should prove successful. Through the three performances during the Saturday and Sunday, August 17-18 dates, Ernest White's Lyndon Farm Oration II performed consistently to with a seven-mile point, on a roaring scent. The six couple killed a pig after a hunt of seventy minutes. This pig luckily put up a poor show. Every one of the new entry, five and a half couple, were up at the kill, and with one exception tackled well, and a couple will carry honorable scars for life.

"Meet at the Kennels at 5 a. m. Soon after moving off the hounds were away on a jack which, after thirty minutes at racing pace, managed to slip into some rocks just in front of the leading hounds. Later in the morning a tiger cat was put up which, after a short burst, was treed and killed".

And now let us close with a quotation from a poem by Will Ogilvie in "Horse and Hound." It appeared before any rumbles even of World War II and yet it is timely, and I guess we all hope that it will be prophetic.

Not in our day shall hunting die,
Or the day of our grandsons' sons,
say I.

If we rode the earth in a hundred years

And looked at our land through a horse's ears

We should see the fields as we see them now

And foxhounds feathering over the plough.

For lads of our line shall carry ahead
The torch that was lit by men long dead;

And never a fence that our grand-sires flew

But our breed shall tackle it-over or through—

Clean-set timber or cut-and-laid,
We may trust them all to the new brigade.

take the Championship dividend while Miss Eleanor Moffett's Candolette mare, who has made a Show a week since Devon, won the Reserve Hunter honors.

Alfred G. Allen, M. F. H. of Westport, Conn., and Joseph W. Dixon, of New York, were the Judges and enjoyed the performances throughout, including the efforts of three very good 3-year-olds, Douglaston Manor Farm's Thunder Shower, by Thunderation, bred and raised by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Barclay, proprietors of this Farm; Mrs. Philip G. Cole's Dunlin 3-year-old mare Tiplin out of Joseph B. Thomas' old mare Tipperary, and Harold G. Fortune's grey 3-year-old Blue Ridge. These young horses, among those vieing for the Lake Placid honors in their Division were outstanding, as were Camp Red Cloud's Meddler, (Plattsburg, N. Y.) winner of the Jumper tricolor and little Russell Stewart's My Play Boy, Reserve.

The show ring setting is one of the loveliest in the country. The mountains, some 10 miles distant, circle about the Lake Placid land there, cutting out a sphere of sport, off from the rest of the world—giving spectators and exhibitors alike the feeling of freedom and peace. War and its attending tribulations has had its effect on hunting-horse-showing and sporting Canada. Whereas last year a number of exhibitors came from the other side, headed by Maj. Clifford Sifton's string, Miss Marion Hart and her father Lawrence M. Hart, of Montreal, were the lone Canadians to get across this year, bringing their Golden Wish, 10-year-old son of Golden Sphere—The Wishing Well with them. This big chestnut gelding, actually bred to run in the King's Cup in Canada, took his share of ribbons, including the Divisional honors in the Middle and Heavy-weight and was a member of the winning Team with his fair owner up.

Whitemarsh Valley Opens Racing Sat. 21

Whitemarsh Valley Hunt Club will open the Philadelphia racing season on Saturday, Sept. 21 at Erdenheim, the beautiful estate of George D. Widener, near Chestnut Hill, Pa. The 1 mile training track there will be the scene of the flat races, while the timber and cross-country courses will be laid in adjoining country.

The feature of the meeting will be the 20th Annual Running of the Pennsylvania Hunt Cup, one of the most important races of its kind during the autumn months. Special interest is given to this event in that it is possibly the only timber handicap in the country. The 2 1-2 mile Erdenheim Cup is the main supporting feature, to be run over brush.

The Huntingdon Valley Hunt Races will be run on Oct. 5, on the estate of George W. Elkins, Justa Farm. This meeting features the Huntingdon Valley 3 mile timber race along with a well balanced card. The famous Rose Tree Meeting, now in its 81st year, takes place Wednesday Oct. 16 and Saturday Oct. 19. Five races are carded each day, with the Foxcatcher Plate, 2 miles over brush and the Rose Tree Hunter Challenge Cup, 3 1-2 miles over timber the features. The Pickering Hunt Club fixture, slated for Saturday, Nov. 2, will close the Philadelphia season at its grounds near Phoenixville, Pa.

325 Entries Carded For Keswick Show

Miss Jamie Terrill, Secy., of the Keswick Horse Show, to be held in Keswick, Virginia, Saturday, August 24 has announced that over 80 horses have been entered and over 325 entries have been recorded. The Committee was hard at work the early part of the week building extra stalls to accommodate the extremely classy field of Virginia circuit Hunters.

Regular Keswick Hunt Members and local residents have made entries, with W. G. Bogert, Mrs. John S. Mc Intyre, Mrs. Cary Jackson, showing, also Mr. and Mrs. W. Haggin Perry, Miss Terrill, and Mr. and Mrs. James Andrews, whose Round Hill won the Hunter crown last year.

Miss Betty Couzens, of Pontiac, Mich., has entered her Repulsion and Jag; Truman Dodson Autogyro and Chief, Mrs. Mary K. Drury Union Jack; Springsbury Farm Billy Do, Highland Ace, and others; Fred Haycock, White Way, Howard Haffner, Bobby E.; Mrs. George Watts Hill Inky and Balkonian. Miss Ellie Wood Keith, Primavera; Mrs. D. N. Lee Little John and Clover Seed; George G. Lee, Lee's Birthday; Meadow Lane Farm, Red Water and Hong Kong, E. Gardner Prime, Spring Miss and Balls Bridge; Robert Waters, Royalty II; Mrs. E. Kenneth Ellis' Rock Spring Farm Spy, Clinker and Arrester; Miss Peggy Sampson Hi Ho Silver and Black Boy; Mrs. Altemus Whitney The Bear, Spring Hope, Bon Nuit, Strong Tea; B. G. Watkins, Bones, Dynamite, Lady Celeste and See Me.

equal number of championships also to her credit, for the well-mannered daughter of Apprehension-Marching On was lately champion at the Rappahannock County Horse Show, while the closing of the spring circuit saw her Working Hunter Champion at Washington's Junior League Show and a year ago Inky added her name to the long list of champions that have made Warrenton Horse Show history. Her picture decorates the cover of the "Hunter Show of America's" prize list this year.

The final day's program was brought to a rousing climax with the High Jump class which went to 6' before E. D. Talbert's big bay gelding Good Friday managed to come off with the honors, giving him a total of 10 points and a tie for the Jumper Championship with Miss Peggy Sampson's grey gelding Black Boy who had won the previous day's Touch And Out. The flip of a coin decided the matter and Black Boy was the lucky Champion. Ridden by his owner, of Bethesda, Md., Good Friday displayed a remarkable ability to stand back and sail the high loose poles, despite the slippery going, in a manner that was in contrast to the usual method of high jumpers. Thus he cleared 5' in Friday morning's open jumping event, which included also the difficult triple bar. Starting with but the one jump at 4'-6", all of the aspirants for the High Jump suffered equally from a bad take-off in soggy going and this became more hazardous as the contest continued for over an hour. Three trials were allowed for each jump, most of them requiring all three for each succeeding height. Both Good Friday and Black Boy, who was ridden by Newton Mayo, were eventually tied at the 6' having failed to accomplish it after several trials, while Mrs. M. E. Whitney's stallion Bon Nuit and Herman Piggott's Brazil were similarly tied for 3rd place at 5' 6". Black Boy and Good Friday had a respite while this other tie was jumped-off and, in his customary phlegmatic manner Bon Nuit finally cleared the jump which still proved too difficult for Brazil, then once more the bars were raised to 6'. Black Boy again brought them down in all three attempts, but Good Friday sailed clear in his final effort, amidst thunderous applause from the grandstand.

Ellie Wood Keith's good bay mare Primavera placed over Inky, Village Miss and some 25 or more other top performers in Thursday's Working Hunter class, which was held over the outside course in the driving rain. This well adapted course, which allows a hunter plenty of scope to extend himself over three upstanding post-and-rail fences, including an in-an-out, also provides an excellent test of the horse's tractability, with two additional post-and-rail fences placed, without wings, at angles inside the ring, which had to be negotiated at a slower pace before the course was completed. Inky's faultless performance over this course had won her the Lightweight Hunters that morning in an equally well-filled class. Ridden throughout the show by Susan Fuller, Inky displayed the same consistent style that has won her acclaim wherever she has appeared. She was again 1st in the Ladies' Hunters, wherein Village Miss, ridden as usual by her owner Mrs. Perry, turned in a performance that was no less difficult to fault and placed second, while Inky's stablemate Lucky Buck was 3rd. Another blue came Inky's way in Friday's Working Hunter event for the Springsbury Challenge Trophy. This time she defeated Springsbury's own good hunter Palm Springs.

Balkonian did not strike his winning stride until the second day when, under the able guidance of Delmar Twyman, the attractive black gelding performed high perfectly over the outside course to win the Middle & Heavyweight Hunters. In this, Springsbury Farm's three well-mannered big geldings Big Boy, Agent Boy and Ginnico were 2nd, 3rd and 4th respectively. First also in the Hunter Hacks, which gave him an opportunity to show his manners in the ring, Balkonian then went on to one of the most brilliant performances of his career in the Corinthian. In this he was awarded the blue over Robert S. Waters' excellent half-bred Royalty II champion of many shows, while Inky, who seems instinctively to know the requirements of a Corinthian class, was 3rd only after much deliberation.

E. L. Redmon's big young chestnut thoroughbred Rascality topped a class of nearly 30 good horses to win the R. Powel Page Memorial Trophy for Green Hunters. Thus it was the third year in succession that a horse from Mr. Redmon's stable had won this trophy, offered in memory of Berryville's first president, for in 1938 it was awarded to Royalty II, who then belonged to Mr. Redmon while last year Royalty II was again the winner, though he had changed hands in the meantime.

Another good, young horse who distinguished himself with outstanding performances was J. E. Barker's Secret Agent gelding Spy. This flashily-marked, nicely-balanced chestnut could well be mistaken for a thoroughbred and was placed over many young horses with more illustrious lineage in both the class for Four-Year-Olds and Under and the Hunters Under Saddle.

The breeding classes brought out a number of youngsters that caused the spectators to sit up and take notice. Thursday's 2-Year-Old Thoroughbred class was headed by four as good representatives of their types as could be seen in any show. The winner was a breedy-looking Court Manor-bred son of the late Traumer—Sunburn, by Sun Briar while 2nd to him was a beautifully-balanced big chestnut son of Hi-Jack—Cassie, by Pandion whose way of moving filled the eye of judges and onlookers alike. Both of these colts were entries of Springsbury Farm, Meadow Lane Farm's Crystal Sands, chestnut daughter of San Utar—Crystal Dawn, was 3rd. This filly had been 4th in the Thoroughbred class at Bath County the week before.

Carl's Choice Wins Cumberland's Final 'Chase

Basil A. Hall's Jumper Breaks Maiden On Disqualification In Bedford Handicap

Steeplechasing at Cumberland was brought to a close last Saturday, August 17, with Basil A. Hall's Carl's Choice breaking his maiden to win The Bedford Handicap on the disqualification of D. B. Barrows' mare Quakerstreet who headed him in by some 15 lengths after the favorite, R. C. Waple's War Port had been shuffled out of the running. Irvin Beavers' Forest Charm, another maiden, was accorded the place after finishing 4 lengths farther away and J. Fred Adams, Jr.'s Jacamar came in for 3rd.

Quakerstreet, who has started altogether a dozen times thus far this year and won one 'chase at Bel Air, was second choice to War Port on Saturday. With Mr. M. Howard in the saddle, the daughter of Chatterton-Blue Moss went to the front at once, closely followed by War Port, Jockey Brooks up. War Port had difficulty following the pace, as the mare swerved in front of him repeatedly and when the War Whoop gelding made his bid for the command nearing the final stages, Quakerstreet again swerved and crowded him into a flag so that Brooks was knocked from the saddle. From then on Quakerstreet had the race to herself and finished in hand. Hugh J. O'Donovan's Tam O'Shanter trailed most of the way, while Mrs. R. H. Clemson's Wrackonite lost his rider early in the race. War Port had equally bad luck on August 9 when his jockey miscalculated the distance and finished him before the race was over, however he won on August 13 and set a new track record of 3.36 2-5 for the distance. Carl's Choice, who was promoted to the winners' circle when Brooks' claim of fowl was allowed, paid his backers $22.20.

A series of record smashings followed War Port's victory earlier last week. On Wednesday, August 14, R. L. Pearson's Edgemont accounted for his third straight triumph over the 2 mile course at the same time reducing War Port's mark of the previous day by 4-5 of a second when he led in J. Fred Adams, Jr.'s Rhythmical, Mrs. G. W. Rutt's Gnomie, W. H. Patterson's Thorny Rose and others, after taking the command from Rhythmical about midway of the course. Then, on August 15, along came M. B. Goss's Judge Hay gelding Judge's Bid and shaved 1 and 3-5 seconds from Edgemont's record, covering the distance in 3.34 flat after he had overtaken Quakerstreet in the late stages and led her across the line by the safe margin of a length. Carl's Choice this time was 3rd, ahead of Wrackonite, R. L. Pearson's Champfleury, Jack Grabosky's Justa Bud and J. Fred Adams, Jr.'s Royal Cuning.

Kopper King Tops Williamsville Show

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Cohen's Kopper King, by Sea Way won the blue in both the open jumping and knock-down-and-out events at the 2nd Annual horse show of The Park-Spur Club at Williamsville, N. Y., Sunday, Aug. 18, in both events placing over Miss Allitha M. B. Cary's Little Thunder, a brilliant son of War Call and an outstanding favorite in the up-state New York shows. Kopper King, under the hands of trainer Frank Snyder has gone places in the shows since his first appearance at Fairport in 1939, and it is likely that before long he will be regarded as highly as is the veteran, Little Thunder who had the second in Sunday's open jumping event and fourth in the knock-down-and-out. Miss Elizabeth Ginther's Sylvan Music won the open hunter class, with Miss Cary's Mufhit taking the yellow, and Mrs. Reginald B. Taylor's Bright Lass and Peace Flame taking the red and white, respectively. The open horsemanship class went to Kevin Danahy.

APPRENTICE RACES

ion with running race meetings have increased in recent years and how hard to mouth many executives are. They cannot cut down their expenses by paying smaller salaries to the growing number of officials, for these salaries are laid down by the agents to the Jockey Club and paid by them. Executives cannot save money by being less hospitable to owners, trainers and jockeys, for that gets meetings a bad name. Hence it would seem that stake money will have to be reduced at many fixtures and maybe a change made at some for it ability. In the eyes of some this is a retrograde movement but the majority would just as soon (or sooner) have a big field in a £100 selling race, than five or six class horses running in an event for £1000 over which than is

Little Duke Champ At Sandy Creek

When they pinned the Jumper Championship ribbon on Miss Kay Taylor's Little Duke, of Watertown, N. Y., at the 3rd Annual Sandy Creek Horse Show, Wednesday, August 14, they were honoring a light, flashy jumper, magnificently handled by a young and decidedly attractive girl, who had gone all the way through a two day show without a fault—every performance clean—and there were many of them. The Reserve went to Daniel H. Conway's Burma, of Oswego, N. Y. The Hunter Championship went to John Vass' Jinglebob, of Syracuse, and the Reserve to Douglaston Manor Farms' Martha H. In this there was an amount of upset as the favorite was Douglaston Manor Farms' Retriever, purchased from Mrs. A. E. Reubens not so long ago, and a horse that throughout the summer has been consistently on top in his classes—winning all three of them at Lockport the week before. Also in the Douglaston Manor string was Thunder Showers, by Thunderation, while taking a lot of ribbons was Miss Eleanor Pease's Helium.

In the horsemanship classes were Miss Florence Patricia Dunn of Syracuse who captured the Good Hands Cup and the McClay Trophy and ridding with Miss Dorothy Hordford of Natural Bridge (N. Y.) won the class for ponies ridden by children—judged on equitation.

little betting. Many, of course, love to see class horses paraded in the paddock and competing against each other but they are far outnumbered and it is often found that for big stakes one outstanding horse frightens away most of the opposition and the race cuts up so badly that it is a fiasco and the money wasted. Hence I do not think that where stake money has to be cut down sport will really suffer. This economy will allow a reduction of entry fees; and this must be faced.

Red Fox II Wins Double Honors In Minnesota

Ramsey County Fair Stages Afternoon And Evening Performances

Minnesota is famous for its County Fairs and many of them are not complete without Horse Show events. One of the best of these is the Ramsey County Fair, held annually near White Bear Lake. It's 19th Renewal took place on Aug. 10-11 and it was a "big, little, Horse Show," of 4 performances, 2 afternoons and 2 evenings, the latter under lights.

Thirty five classes, including 3 and 5 Gaited, Ponies, Children's Horsemanship and Jumping, Open Jumping, Working and Conformation Hunts filled the program. All classes were well filled with over 100 horses competing. The big winner was Red Fox II, recently purchased from Mrs. D. N. Lee, of Middleburg. He not only went truly but cleanly throughout and without ever so much as a fault, won every class he was shown in for his owner rider Miss Eileen Bigelow, of White Bear Lake, to gain both the Working and Conformation Hunter Champion—Continued on Page Fourteen

Miss Moffett rode Candolette throughout. She took Working honors, Hunt Team and Handy Hunter blues as well. The little mare is an ideal ladies' mount, is 6 years old and seems to gain weight and improve with a severe summer's campaigning. Miss Moffett secured the daughter of Canadian Ensign—Mandolette from Miss Dorothy Swain, of Ashville, N. C., who had bought the mare during her college days at Randolph-Macon (Va.). Miss Swain worked through College that she could keep Candolette, but when she graduated and came home her family insisted she sell.

The Lake Placid Committee, Dr. Cole, Mrs. William H. Carpenter, H. L. Garren, James B. Madden and Mrs. Ralph K. Trix are to be congratulated on the show, the splendid physical properties, the ring, stabling facilities and outside course. Long and short outside courses were used, with all horses getting an opportunity to show their manners in the open. The short course was about 1-4 of a mile, jumping in and out of the ring—the longer over 1-2 a mile and including a stone wall with a sod covering, Aiken, chicken coop, post and rail (in-and-out) and brush. The jumps on the long course were slightly bigger while the short course's pig-pen in-and-out proved the undoing of many who were unaccustomed to the fenced in in-and-out.

WORDS OF A SONG

There is a current ballad, an innocuous thing in reality, the title of which expresses better than volumes of words, the serious task with which this country is faced today. The words are simple, "God Bless America". Could anything be more descriptive of the inability to grasp realities than these words which are being hummed upon the lips of many thousands of Americans, at the present time. They express the complacency, the lassitude, the desire to let things remain as they are, that kills initiative and destroys the incentive so essential if America is to carry the torch of spiritual freedom and maintain it in the face of the new force that has emanated from Europe.

"God Bless America". For what? For the 3,000 miles of ocean that separate us from Europe. For the protection that should be ours, but in reality is not. For the security of a great country that is so vulnerable to enemies from without and so unable to deal with enemies from within. This complacency is not the divine spark which has lighted the Empires of the world and which was responsible for this country. There is no inspiration in those words, no incentive to go forward. No triumphant call to rally to a great cause.

What great thing has ever been built upon complacency. Nothing has ever been founded upon the spirit which is satisfied with the world. Those who sit back and maintain the status quo, those who have nothing to offer but the desire to be left alone grow cold in their own inertia. Suffering built this country, suffering of men and women who were willing to endure the cold winds of Valley Forge, the years of privation in a forlorn struggle against a mighty foe. Were those men with bleeding feet on the snow around Pennsylvania who marched with Washington content to sing, "God Bless America". No, they were shouting, "Give me Liberty or Give me Death." Those men saw visions and with George Washington, they had dreams of a great and mighty country.

Oh for just a glimmer of that divine spark that would ignite the old fires of Liberty and kindle once more those flaming words of Democracy, down with dictators, down with those who wish to infringe our liberties, down with tyrants. Let us build a mighty race of men not by the dead and dying fires of our ancestors, not by waiting for others to show us the way, but by actions of unselfishness, by the willingness to forget the pettiness of individual desires for the good of the world.

Today whether Americans like it or not, a new Empire may be forged out of the hell fire of battle, an Empire founded upon Force. Why? Not because the Democratic ideal is found lacking, but because the men who guide the destinies of Democracy have lost that divine spark to go forward. Democracy to survive, must be fashioned to move with the times, must grow and become more mobile to suit the needs of a new generation. A new order of Force threatens the lifeblood of America because this country, ostrich like, sings its own praises while refusing to recognize its own shortcomings. America is satisfied. Her rich men want to stay rich, her poor are content with relief. The cause of Liberty wavers like some feeble flame within the vacuum of their own inertia. Where is the creative fire that once was willing to sacrifice all for independence? Is it found in such expressions as "God Bless America?" Rather let Americans pray God for some portion of that suffering which once made a nation out of a starving band so that the divine fires of great thoughts and great actions may again sweep this country for if inspiration to action does not come to America now, Germany is in truth building her Empire upon the dead and dying embers of Democracy.

Letters to the Editor

War Whoops

August 19, 1940

The Chronicle,
Gentlemen:

I have decided to have a sale of our horses on Saturday, September 21. We are going to have an absolute dispersal sale and sell everything to the highest bidder.

I noticed in The Chronicle of Aug., 9th a letter written by Courtland H. Smith, expressing the strong opinion that Royalty II was one of the best Heavyweight hunters every produced in the Old Dominion. I also noticed in The Chronicle of August 16 the letter signed "Tom Tiger, Front Royal, Va.", giving his opinion that Battle Day is the best Heavyweight in the country. As you doubtless know, both of these horses are by War Whoop, although his name is not mentioned in either letter.

At our sale we are going to sell a full-sister to Royalty II and a half-brother to Battle Day. More than half of the horses to be sold in the sale will be by War Whoop out of beautifully bred mares.

As you know the only War Whoop I am racing this year is Son of War and he has won approximately $10,000. since January 1, against the best horses in California.

Best Regards,
Robert C. Winmill,
Warrenton, Va.

Foxhunting In War

Aug. 17, 1940

The Chronicle,
Gentlemen:

The following letter was received a few days ago and I am passing it on to you thinking it might be of interest to some of your fox-hunting readers. They will remember the writer Lord Dorchester, for he was over here a few years ago judging the Toronto Show. He is well known in England, having published several books on hunting and shooting and at one time was joint-Master of the Garth Hunt.

In the last War he served as a Colonel and received many decorations from the British Government, but wrote at the outbreak of this War that when he tried to get an active job he was insulted everywhere because of his age (62). Finally, after a personal interview with the War Minister, he is on active duty as a 2nd Lieutenant in an Anti-Aircraft Defense Battery. This is the spirit which should help England.

Most sincerely,

Margaret Colt (Mrs. Sloan Colt)

Tuxedo Park, N. Y.

July 23, 1940

I've just finished ten of the most strenuous weeks that have fallen to my lot since the war started. As you know by now, this "blessed Island" is now a fortress, not merely defended on its outside, but one mass of defensive ramifications within itself. In the preparation of the latter, local knowledge, such as is acquired by years of traversing the country on foot or horseback, by bicycle or motor-car, is invaluable, and moreover saves days and weeks of reconnoitering by map and visits on the part of those not so intimately acquainted. Consequently I—and many others, notably ex-M. F. H. and country folk—have been co-opted from our units, or business retirement—whichever it may be—to act as guides and advisers and so save priceless time.

I never thought (or rather I have often thought) how useful in war would be the local knowledge acquired in the hunting field or out shooting. Knowing exactly where a wood ends, or a stream is impassable to foot, horse, or guns; where a bog blocks access or egress; which bit of high ground commands a view; where one outlook over a stretch of country intersects another similar view point, etc. Points where you put your first whip command country and serve as watching posts for parachutists and how many such watching posts are required to cover such and such an area; interlocking communications to be established by bicycle in case a telephone is cut, and so on. It is such problems that I have been working on day and night (not I alone, but thousands of us) for the past ten weeks, and as regards our own sector—well—I look back on my work and I can see that it has been good—at least I think so, and so my fox-hunting has not been wasted!

Pray that the need never arises in your land, but fore-warned is fore-armed, and let your young men see to it in time that some among them have in their mind's eye and memory a complete map of any bit of country they may be called upon to safeguard, and extend such knowledge so that every bit of vulnerable country is apportioned to someone, and that where individual sectors overlap the boundaries are so apportioned as to cover every point.

No doubt this sort of thing was done during your Civil War, but that is now so remote that I doubt whether even your most advanced military thinkers have given this matter of local defense a thought. Certainly, we, a year ago, had not contemplated its importance.

And now with the Hun at our gates—how is it with us? Not so bad, I assure you. True, the air-raid warnings wake us up, bombs fall, and shrapnel bursts in the sky at intervals, and no doubt these visitations will become more frequent and more intense as time goes on. We all have jobs of course. Kathay runs the house and a bit of the out-sides including a few flowers, my son-in-law commands a company somewhere near the coast, my daughter (his wife) is looking after the children and doing three days a week in a hospital—she has her diploma as hospital matron—my other daughter is living in another hospital as a whole time worker. That is typical of any family in England to-day.

There is no shortage of essentials, although certain luxuries are curtailed. Plenty of petrol for those who really need it and sufficient for ordinary purposes, but the ration is strictly applied.

Yet on any summer afternoon in the country with hay-making in progress, but for the continual droning of aircraft overhead, it is difficult to realize that we've got a war on our hands. Of course it is different in the prohibited coastal areas, but inland you'd notice nothing except (if you knew where to look) certain arrangements for blocking roads, a head poked over a hedge when you least expected it inquiring for your identification papers, a great coming and going of troops of all kinds, young ladies of the Auxiliary Transport Service in khaki and peaked

Entries Close August 24

WITH HAROLD E. SMITH, WARRENTON, VA.

Looking Down On A High Jumper At Berryville

E. D. Talbert brought his bay gelding GOOD FRIDAY over from Bethesda, Md., to the Berryville, Clarke County, Va. Horse Show last week and won both the Open Jump and the High Jump to gain an equal right to the Championship with Miss Peggy Sampson's Richmond entry BLACK BOY. Above as seen from the top of the judges' stand, GOOD FRIDAY is shown with his owner up in the spectacular High Jump wherein he went 6 feet. He only lost the Championship when a coin toss decided it in favor of BLACK BOY.

Placid Winning Hunters

—Artographic Studio.

Reserve North Shore Young Hunter

Champion and Reserve At Hart's Run, Owners Up

Miss Helen B. Shaw, on her brown gelding GERSHWIN and Miss Jane Flaccus (left) on her chestnut gelding PRINCE DEVON rode these two hunters to the outstanding performances and the eventual Championship and Reserve at the Annual Hart's Run Horse Show, held at Allison Park, Pa., last Friday and Saturday, August 16 and 17. The 16.1 hand GERSHWIN, a son of SIR GALLAHAD III, was undefeated in the lightweights, winning four straight blues, and wound up the undisputed Hunter Champion, while PRINCE DEVON, who topped the middle and heavyweights, equally merited the Reserve.

First North American To George H. Bostwick; Second North American To *Cottesmore

Jockey Frank Slate held George H. "Pete" Bostwick's COTTESMORE off the pace through the first 1 1/2 miles of the North American Steeplechase Handicap at Saratoga last Saturday and then made his move and had but a hand-ride finish to beat off Emilie Pfizer's FARNDAL, who gave determined opposition through to the stretch. Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's BACHELOR PHILIP made the running for the first turn and a half and may be seen to be finishing 3rd, with the Sanford Stud Farm's L'ODEON, in contention until the 3rd fence from home, getting 4th money. The time was exceedingly slow, 10 seconds off GOLDEN MEADOW'S record of 4:06 4-5 made in August, 1936. Thomas Hitchcock's RIOTER and F. A. Clark's NIGH HERON were also rans. This is the second win in three starts for COTTESMORE since Mr. Bostwick obtained him from Thomas Hitchcock, Sr., and it is his 2nd North American 'Cap. He won it in '39. The largest mutual of the year was bet on Saturday by over 26,000 attending the races who wagered on the 'chasers to the extent of $28,655, to win, $13,375 to place and $8,887 to show.

taking over the command. The latter was likewise tiring after the strenuous early pace and when Cottesmore moved up with a rush three fences from home, the latter had little difficulty in getting to the top. Farnedale too had come up rapidly and was offering stubborn opposition approaching the final fence, but Cottesmore shook him off and was in front by a length and a half as he landed. This advantage he continued to improve as they drove down the stretch and it was Cottesmore by something more than 3 lengths at the finish, while Farnedale held Bachelor Philip safe by an equal margin. Lodeon had bobbed at several of his later fences and came home tired, but well ahead of both Rioter and Night Heron.

Cottesmore, who is trained by his owner, won his first race under Mr. Bostwick's light blue and red colors when he scored over Groton Stable's Saluda and his former stablemate Satilla in The Meadow caps and their opposite numbers in the blue of the Air Service.

Financially we country gentlemen shall have to change our habits most drastically, but we are all in the same boat, so what does it matter? After all, yachting, fishing, hunting, shooting—these things should never have been a business, such as they had become to many of us. Farming must take their place, but I don't doubt that some of us will find place for a beagle or two and time to hunt a hare, or even a fox, before we put up the shutters.

So I want you to picture us—not complacent because of our sea-moat and our sea power, our qualitative (not quantitative) air superiority and our comparative immunity up to the present—but as quite aware that such an attack, by air and land, as it is difficult to contemplate will presently descend upon us and that we shall suffer enormous casualties, experience unexpected shocks and unforeseen surprises, yet we shall withstand them, and in due course (I pray) carry the war into the enemy's country.

I want you to tell your friends that England is iron-hard these days and as ruthless in its outlook as it has been sloppy in the past. Not one single person with any understanding whatsoever has any idea of self, or class, or comfort. The particular job we are doing is the only thing that counts. We have no intention of bowing to Hitler or anyone else, and are quite prepared to sacrifice everything, including ourselves of course, in the cause of what we know to be right. We are facing a steep braise with a stout heart. I cannot conceive, in my limited vision, the possibility of our ultimate defeat.

Devon is classed among the middle and heavyweights. Both won the model hunter classes in their respective divisions. Following his win in the Model Lightweight Hunters, in which he was shown in hand, Miss Shaw then rode Gershwin in the Lightweight Hunters. This called for performances over the outside course, a course that proved a trappy test with its up-and-down-hill fences, and the 7-year-old son of *Sir Gallahad III—Melodia here showed the winning form that he was to sustain consistently through the show. He was pinned above John W. Beach's good chestnut gelding Walumbe, Mrs. C. Snowden Richards' grey mare June Holiday and Mrs. Sally Soles' Virginia-bred mare Clifton's Jane. Gershwin then followed up that same afternoon with similar firsts in the Working Hunters and the Thoroughbred Hunters, being placed above Prince Devon in the latter.

Prince Devon's triumph over the outside course came in the class for Qualified Hunters, in which he scored over W. C. Robinson, Jr.'s grey gelding Captain Kidd, winner of the Middle and Heavyweight Hunters, Clifton's Jane and a number of others. Captain Kidd then came on to top both Gershwin and Prince Devon the following day in the Ladies' Hunters, shown in the ring.

One of the outstanding performances of the entire show, however, was that of John W. Beach's Walumbe in the Corinthian. Ridden by Miss Molly Hays, the well balanced 16.1 hand gelding displayed all the brilliance and form that denotes a true Corinthian hunter as he sped over the outside course. Prince Devon's performance gained him 2nd place, while Captain Kidd was 3rd.

The Jumper Championship went to Princess Pat II, Dr. V. E. Beldham's 5-year-old chestnut mare whose qualification for this tricolor came as a result of winning Friday's class for Open Jumpers and placing second to John Beach's Time Tryst in Saturday's Touch and Out. David I. McCall, Jr.'s grey gelding Abdenego was next in line for the Reserve, having won the Ladies' Touch and Out on Saturday. First in the Junior Touch and Out on Friday was Miss Ellen Kaufmann's mare Drakill, while another noteworthy jumper was Lazy Hour Ranch's bay gelding Castleman whom Miss Evelyn Thompson rode to a spectacular triumph in Saturday's Triple Bar.

Basset Field Trials Scheduled Sept. 28-29

The 2nd Eastern Field Trial of the Basset Hound Club of America will be held on the estate of James Cox Brady, near Gladstone, N. J., on Saturday and Sunday, September 28 and 29. The dates selected are the Saturday and Sunday immediately following the Bryn Mawr Hound Show, at which the Bassets will be judged on Friday, September 27.

Reports from the Basset owners show that the trials are eagerly awaited and the committee anticipates an entry surpassing that of the previous year's. Stakes will be run for single, all-age dog hounds; single, all-age bitches; one couple, entered by a single owner (dogs or bitches, or both); packs, 3 couples entered by a single owner (dogs or bitches, or both).

Dr. Thomas Butler Snyder of Kimberton, Pa., Fred Huyler, Gladstone, N. J., and Josiah Childs, Dedham, Mass., have been invited to judge. Entries are open to all and spectators will be welcome. Applications for premium lists should be addressed to James Suydam Jones, Pottersville, N. J.

ion mare and the Champion foal. Saturday's program will be made up of Yearlings, 2-year-old and 3-year-old events, thoroughbred and half-breds separate; an open class for Green Hunters, to be shown over jumps; a Grand Champion class; a Group Class, for the best group of three bred and owned by the exhibitor; and a Get of Stallion class. The Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth Memorial Cup is offered in the Valley Brood Mare Class, restricted to thoroughbred and half-bred mares from the Genesee Valley only.

NORTH SHORE SHOW

North Shore "Young Hunters Championship". He was very consistent over his fences and under saddle, winning 11 ribbons, numbering six 2nds.

Saturday night, in a very capably lighted ring, where many lights strung overhead in place of the customary bank system, proved most effective, Bond Street, from the sun-wood Farm of Mr. and Mrs. F. Woodson Hancock, of Valley Forge, Pa., the outstanding Hunter in America this season to date, came close to taking both Conformation and Working Hunter Division awards. Miss Patricia Bolling, a new rider to the noted son of Town and Gown, was up, taking the place of Mrs. Edgar Scott who was forced to miss this show. Whereas he won the Conformation Tricolor and took Reserve in the Working, he won the $250 Working Stake and dropped to 3rd in the $250 Conformation Hunter Stake won by that grand old veteran Red Tape who had also been put up in the Model. Bond Street accounted for 7 blues, a 2nd, and 3-3rds in his climb to the tricolor ring, as Deborah G. Rood's Dublin Venture, from Wilmington Del., with some 4 blues, was Reserve.

Miss Peggy Carpenter, of New Rochelle, N. Y., has an ideal Ladies' mount in her Little Flight. The pair are a rare combination and it is hard for judges to overlook them, so simply and easily they perform. Little Flight took the Working Championship ahead of Bond Street and won many another important ribbon through the three days.

Many a heart warmed as Mrs. Eaton Guggenheim, of Babylon, L. I., brought out the great Red Tape from his retirement. This striking son of Light Brigade, foaled in 1927, has carried his years well and looked the part of the Model Conformation Hunter that he was awarded at North Shore. He justified this decision in going out and turning in a spanking performance in the Conformation Hunter Stake and earning $100 as the winner's share in this $250 event. It has been at least 2 years since he has been shown.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kennedy, of Dedham, Mass., had a string of four, 3 Jumpers and Hallow Gold. This 7-year-old has improved tremendously since last February when he commenced this season's Shows at Southern Pines. He has bottomed down, represents more substance and is extremely smooth under saddle, winning two such events at North Shore. He was consistently in the ribbons. Stablemate Little Squire, that phenomenal open pony who turns back full grown horses in the Open Jumping, started very slowly, not even in the ribbons the first day and then hustled home with the Jumper Stake and other awards to take the Jumper tricolor. The Squire's compatriot Erin's Son won in some classes wherein the grey faulted out, though it was Dudley Brothwell's Brookside Stables' (Fairfield, Conn.) Brookside who won sufficient points to take the Reserve Jumper laurels.

Other young horses at North Shore included Mrs. Samuel C. Register's (Glen Cove, L. I.) Dun Pickin, recent from the 'chasing parks; Miss Rood's Andor and Saldan, who won considerably; Morton W. Smith's Kerlock Castle; Mrs. D. N. Lee's Grand Dan, Man Power and Spanish Spear, the latter winning the Young Hunter Model and the Under Saddle in the same Division; Mrs. Walter Kees (New York) had Scotchwood, Sleeve Bloom and Dachshund performing with success; Mrs. Edward Lasker had Skylarke, who is well up in any class with a good performance. There was little doubt at the conclusion of the Show, despite the brilliance of some of the veteran Hunters and outstanding open performances, that the Young Hunters stole the show. Spectators enjoyed the refreshing reaction of seeing new horses in the ring also the veritable schooling performances of some.

Miss Peggy Elkan, of Larchmont, N. C. has Power Plant, a splendid Junior Working Hunter and won this award. Miss Bolling, who usually contents to ride other exhibitors' mounts was busy on the winning end of blue ribbons with her bay mare Velveteen. She won a big class the first thing on Friday morning when 28 contended and Mrs. Edward Lasker's Court Ways was 4th to Beau Soleil and Point-O-View Farm's Bourbon Lad. Friday proved a very long day with classes well filled and the night performance carrying on to late hours. From 9 in the morning to almost midnight horses were in and out of the ring constantly and Otis Trowbridge, well known master of ceremonies via his announcing system kept things on the hop.

Reserve to Red Fox II in the Confirmation was taken by the veteran Xaladon, son of *Berrilldon, owned by Mrs. L. E. Wakefield, Jr., of St. Paul. This good chestnut came from Virginia some years ago.

Fritz Ingram, of White Bear Lake, and a nephew of Miss Bigelow, took command of the Green Division with wins by his 6-year-old Confidence. Confidence, following a successful competition in the Children's Classes as well, teamed with The Killer-Diller, a 17.3 chestnut formerly known as Shad (who like Confidence was developed by Alex Calvert of Warrenton, Va.) and Red Fox II to make up the winning Hunt Team.

John Ireys, of Minneapolis, gathered many ribbons with triumphs on his The Pilot a Maryland hunter. Miss Jane Pillsbury, of Minneapolis did very well in the Show with her new Simba. Miss Pillsbury is a former Foxcroft student.

Entries in, Announced Today

New York's richest and America's greatest handicap, the $50,000 added New York Handicap of 2 1-4 miles, to be run at Belmont Park on Oct. 5, has reached its first milestone. All entries are in and will be announced today. This test is not merely another rich race for a Saturday throng, but a contribution to American racing and thoroughbred breeding. It should prove the real quality of potentially great horses.

Pulling Contests, Sept. 11

The entire day of Wed. Sept. 11 at the Timonium State Fair will be turned over to draft pulling contests. The "Dynamometer" will be employed and the Maryland farmers show great rivalry. It has been estimated that if Maryland draft horses were allowed 15c per hour for their labor on farms the power furnished would exceed $10,000,000. Over 80 percent of Maryland farmers employ draft horses as a source of farm field power.

Great Spa Bargain

A brown colt by Jamestown-Bourbon Girl, by Helmet by Dick Fennell caught the eye of Laddy Sanford and his trainer Hollie Hughes. He was sold in the consignment of the Estate of R. H. Anderson at Saratoga on Friday, Aug. 16. Something of a bidding duel was suggested as Hollie found himself vying with Sammy Smith who was bidding for Howard Phipps, still the latter's limit was $3,500 and Laddy got the prize for $3,600. The colt's 2nd dam is a Dick Fennell mare. He once stood at the Sanford Stud. The Jamestown colt is impossible to fault, of great scope and tremendous substance. He has a grand deep bay color with black flinty looking legs. He is a half-brother to Caesars Ghost, winner of the Huron Handicap, (1 3-16) the Saratoga Handicap, and the Whitney Stakes, also a winner over jumps.

Fairfield County's Packs

Alfred G. Allen, M. F. H., who was judging at Lake Placid Horse Show, last week-end, advised The Chronicle that Fairfield County Hounds were just walking these days, with cubbing to begin the 1st of the month. He is joint-Master with Mrs. James C. Clark this year. The Hunt has 2 Kennels, one at Newtown the other at Fairfield. There are 5 1-2 couple of hounds to be entered this year at Newtown. Mr. Allen will hunt the Fairfield pack while Huntsman John Hughes will handle the Newtown pack. A fixture card is forthcoming.

Warrenton Show Festivities

According to M. Louise Evans, publicity director for the 41st Annual Warrenton Horse Show, a gala week-end has been planned by the entertainment committee, headed by Mrs. Robert C. Winmill, for the out-of-town exhibitors, officials and judges of the "Hunter Show of America", to be held next Saturday, August 31, and the following Monday, (Labor Day) Sept. 2. The Melville Church-ees will start the ball of festivities rolling with a dinner on Friday evening at their "Northcliffe," Rixeyville home, this for the judges and officials. On Saturday afternoon following the first day's program the show's president J. North Fletcher will entertain at tea at "Crestone" and that night the North Wales Club will be aglow with dancing and merrymaking. Sunday will find the exhibitors and officials lunching at North Wales and later in the afternoon Mrs. Winmill will be their tea-time hostess at "Clovelly". There will be a swimming and supper party at the Gardner Primes' "Eastwood" that night and on Monday a tea at North Wales following the final judging, then President North Fletcher will dine them at "Crestone" once more.

Berryville All Wet

It was drizzle drizzle throughout both days of the 39th Annual Berryville Horse Show last Thursday and Friday, Aug. 15 and 16, though an occasional shower introduced itself at unexpected moments just to break the monotony. There were few bad performances, however, despite the slippery going which grew more so as the show progressed. The Working Hunters Class on Friday was held during one of the major celestial operations and Ellie Wood Keith rode Trimavera to victory bounced up in a mackintosh and wearing a rainhat nonchalantly over her derby.

The R. Powell Page Memorial Trophy, offered in memory of the Berryville Horse Show's first president in the Green Hunters class, would have been Ernest Redmon's for keeps this year if only he hadn't sold Royalty II to Robert Waters last year. It was Royalty who won this handsome silver salver for Mr. Redmon two years ago, then he won it again last year in the name of Mr. Waters and last Saturday Mr. Redmon's nice young thoroughbred Rascality brought it back to his Middleburg owner. The same owner has to win it three times before it becomes his permanent property, however. Mrs. M. E. Whitney has two legs on this trophy, having won it in 1935 with Glory Road and the following year with Mickel. Mrs. George Greenhaigh's Clomoney was the 1937 winner.

A Token of Berryville

One of the very nice things noted about the Berryville Horse Show was the considerate and thoughtful gesture on the part of the committee in presenting each one of the judges at the conclusion of the show with an attractive silver cigarette box, each having a tiny silver horse mounted on the top, a simple token, in good taste, of their appreciation. All too frequently judges are known to spend many tiring hours in the ring, conscientiously doing their best, and all they receive in return are a few derogatory and unsportsmanlike remarks from the spectators, or perhaps a complaint from one of the dissatisfied exhibitors.

Van Loses Wheels

Ernest Redmon's Rascality, Glamour Man, Watch Tiger, Our Time and Robert S. Waters' Royalty II were returning from the Berryville Horse Show last Saturday, with their many ribbon rewards. Colored Doug Gray was in with the horses and Coytt Wilson's Albert Jones, colored driver, was at the wheel. As the van approached Middleburg the dual wheels on the near side came off and went hurtling down the road, just missing Bob Lowrie, Manager of Mary Rumsey's Grasslands Farm. Albert "wrestled with the wheel" and "steadied the van to a stop." The horses weren't even moved in their stalls yet Doug Gray was so excited "he hasn't been able to say anything yet."

Meadow Lane Acquires

Allan Hirsh's Meadow Lane Farm, near Hot Springs, Va., where stands San Uta has acquired another brood matron with Christopher M. Greer Jr., announcing the sale of his Roi Herode mare, Royally winner of Brood Mare ribbons at the Berryville Horse Show. Chris said: "she was so good I didn't want to sell her," but Mr. Hirsh entreated.

"How About Marriage?"

Such a telegram of the above wording, signed "Dot" created something of a furor in Charley "Pistol" White's family's life some time ago. Mrs. Samuel Register of Long Island wired Charley (well known flat and 'chasing trainer) to learn of the progress of Marriage, a Strolling Player—War Wedding colt she had in training. The wire was telephoned and considerable conjecture by his family went about until Charley returned to tell them it was a horse. He proceeded to get 4 winning efforts out of him on the flat in 1939. Marriage is now gelded but he got Mrs. Register's famous old Wax Belle hunter in foal first. This mare has won many an award in the Brood Mare Division at Piping Rock and is a veteran affield.

Mr. Woodward's Red Tie

When Jockey Stout, wearing the white, red spots and scarlet cap of Belair Stud, booted Fenelon home to win The Travers in the 71st Running last Saturday, Aug. 17, and an estimated $23,000 William Woodward, owner, was there to meet the Sir Gallahad III colt. Pictured in the winner's circle, Mr. Woodward was wearing a scarlet tie for his red-letter day.

Texas in the King Ranch

Brann To Consign Mares

William L. Brann will consign mares in foal to his great Challenger II for the Maryland Fall Sales, when the Whitney and Vanderbilt yearlings are sold.

No Complimentary Nominations

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, President of Belmont Park is very anxious that there are no complimentary nominations made for the New York Handicap of 2 1-4 miles. A thorough investigation of each entry is to be made.

Saratoga Drags

Mrs. John Bosley, well known Trainer, likes the Saratoga racing strip. She pointed out that the Association was always hard at work dragging it and that they use horse drawn drags which do not have the tendency to pack down the dirt so tightly as the heavy tractors. She advised The Chronicle that she had a grand Hunt Meeting prospect in a 7-year-old by Lucullite, who is showing great improvement and is ready for efforts this fall.

Fowler Memorial

The Fowler Memorial will be the co-feature of the Essex Hunt Races this fall, along with the New Jersey Hunt Cup. Anderson Fowler, who has been in Saratoga for the past weeks, taking a syndicate house with the Gordon Douglas-es, the James C. Bradys, and Townsend Martin told The Chronicle of the subscription conditions of the Fowler Memorial. Owners will pay $50 to enter, $50 to start and all will go to the winner and there will be $2,500 added for the 3 miles over brush.

Gentleman Rider Owner

Billy Jones, well known Gentleman Rider recently claimed Slieveragh, a former Montpelier performer, more recently in the hands of Frank Christmas. Billy also claimed Torch Gleam, by Torchilla last Monday, one capable of going 7-8's in 1:24. The former he will ride over brush, the latter will go on the flat.

Rolling Rock Trials

The Rolling Rock Hunter Trials are to be held Sat. Sept. 21. This year for the first time no conformation will be considered. Hunters must be hunting-hunters. Lew Waring is to Judge.

Piebald Mule

Morris Dixon, very nearly the top Steeplechase trainer last year, still has a sense of humor, despite the tragic losses of Whaddon Chase, Court Time and Promoter all in a month. In the horses in training sold on Friday, Aug. 23, was a piebald Shetland pony mule out of an Alsatian jackass consigned by Morris. (Promoter dropped dead of heart trouble before Saratoga. Court Time stepped in a hoof-print on the flat in his last outing at Saratoga and snapped a bone in his leg. Court Time, son of Court Day was one of the most consistent jumpers in the game. He accomplished the Fair Hill course with 154 pounds up; won at Radnor this spring and Montpelier last November. He once was a whipper-in's horse for the Vicmead Hunt but was unmanageable. Morris Dixon Jr., used to gallop Court Time and he was to be the youngster's first hunt-meeting ride, so safe was he considered.

Rombout Cubbing

Homer Gray, who is joint-Master with M. G. Folger of Rombout Hounds, was judging at the North Shore Horse Show. He advised The Chronicle that the first unofficial cubbing morning was to have been held Sunday, Aug. 18.

Mary Jackson Buyer

Mrs. Cary Jackson, of Keswick, is a smart Saratoga yearling buyer. Many of the youngsters she has obtained up there have turned out well as hunters. This year she even got into the Hancock Sale, (it averaged the highest of any lots sold) when she bought a ch. f. by Hard Tack for $550. Others she obtained included: a br. f. by Hilltown, a ch. c. by Hard Tack, a b. c. by Gallant Sir and a ch. c. by Time Maker.

Bijoux Announcements

An engaging little folder accompanies the September fixture card of The Bijoux Bassets of Banbury Cross, whose kennels are at Old Chatham, N. Y. Engraved on the cover is a portrait of one of these sturdy little hounds while on the inside flap their master Mrs. Consuelo U. Ford has placed a fitting quotation from Shakespeare:

"My hounds are bred out of the Spartan kind, So flew'd, so sanded; and their heads are hung With ears that sweep away the morning dew. Crook-knee'd, and dew-lapp'd like Thessalonian bulls; Slow in pursuit, but matched in mouth like bells; Each under each. A cry more tuneable Was never holle'd to, nor cheer'd with horn, In Crete, in Sparta, nor in Thessaly."

Following this comes a list of hounds and their breeding, a sum total of 14 and a half couple. The Bijoux days of meeting are Tuesdays and Fridays and occasional by days. Mrs. Ford, M. B., is a member of the committee in charge of the Eastern Field Trial of the Basset Hound Club of America which is to be held on James Cox Brady's estate at Gladstone, N. J., on Sept. 28 and 29.

Judges for St. Louis

With $1,000 Stakes in both the Hunter and Jumper Divisions, the St. Louis National Horse Show, Sept. 30—Oct. 5, (Mo.), has announced that Charles J. Barrie, Teaneck, N. J., and Harry Gorham, Morris, Ill., will act singly and collectively throughout the Show as Hunter and Jumper Judges.

Show, which was scheduled to take place on September 7, has been postponed until some future date next spring. This year's exhibition would have been the 29th annual show thus sponsored by the Fairfax Hunt, a show that has attracted a wide selection of entries from Virginia, Maryland and the District in the past. It's champion a year ago was Edgewood Farm's Haploemetic.

Loudoun's Past And Present

A most attractive book on Virginia's Loudoun County has been recently published by The Graphic Arts Press in Princeton, N. J. Edited by Harriet Brockman Samuels, and titled "Loudoun County Virginia, Past and Present," it is replete with excellent photographs and other interesting illustrations, presents a delightful glimpse into the history of the county from the days of Robert "King" Carter, Colonial Governor of the Old Dominion, also tells the story of the Middleburg and Loudoun Hunts, of the founding of the Loudoun County Hunt Club in 1894 and of the beginnings of the Upperville Colt and Horse Show back in the 1850's. The book deals also with the agriculture and industry of the county as well as its many historic homes and gardens. Nina Carter Tabb, who contributed largely to the book's being, is, with Mrs. Lloyd N. Tabb, its distributor in Middleburg. The price is $1.50.

Gershwin—Leicestershire, Brothers

While Helen Shaw's good looking brown hunter Gershwin was winning such classes as the Lightweight Hunters, the Thoroughbred Hunters and the Working Hunters last Friday at Allison Park, Pa., thus paving the way to the Hunter Championship of the 3rd Annual Hart's Run Horse Show, his half brother Leicestershire was accounting for his first steeplechase at Cumberland the same afternoon. Both horses were bred by A. B. Hancock, are out of Melodia, a daughter of Cudgel. The 7-year-old Gershwin is by Sir Gallahad III and Mrs. Isabel Sloane paid $19,500 for him at Saratoga, while the younger Leicestershire, a 5-year-old, is by Gallant Fox, son of Sir Gallahad III.

Allez Cup For Bryn Mawr

Madame Jacques Allez, of Paris, France, has presented a cup to the Bryn Mawr Horse Show, which will be contested for the first time at Bryn Mawr next month. The 44th Annual Bryn Mawr Horse Show will be held September 25-28. Madame Allez is the former Miss Mary Drexel Paul, and when she resided in Philadelphia and on the Main Line during her girlhood and young womanhood, she was yearly attendant at the Bryn Mawr Show. She was also an exhibitor, owning several fine hunters and show horses, including a gray gelding, Peter Gray, who was often a ribbon winner at Bryn Mawr. His owner was an ardent foxhunter and a frequent follower of Radnor.

Schooling Show at Fox Hill Farm

The Dean Bedfords of Harford County, enlivened the summer horse show routine for Maryland's younger riders recently when they held an informal schooling show in the ring at their Fox Hill estate. Acting as judges themselves, the Bedfords invited some three dozen boys and girls to school their mounts in horsemanship and jumping classes. This gave the riders a chance to correct their own faults, under able supervision, and to school away from home, over unfamiliar obstacles. Young Daphne Bedford, temporarily deserting her side-saddle, led the way on her gray hunting pony, Sally, Dean Bedford, Jr., wielded the megaphone and called in the various events. Lead-rein, walk-trot and hack classes were announced for the smallest children, while the 'teen ages put their horses and ponies over jumps up to about 3'-6". Ribbons were given out and proved almost as popular as the cakes and soft drinks served later on from the Fox Hill station wagon.

Veterans of the show-ring circuit on hand to polish up the rough spots were Paddy and Michael Smithwick, showing father Alfred Smithwick's 19-year-old hunter as well as a Kantar 2-year-old of Mr. Howard Bruce's which only recently arrived home from Delaware Park but behaved like an old campaigner. Paddy also rode Mrs. W. Graham Boyce's Bacon Boy, winning a blue at jumping.

Anne Chew Green on Miss Virginia, David Ridgely on Dunboyne, Betty Bosley on Pistol and sister Sara along too, Harriet Stokes on Chicken Little and Peter Winants were all present. Some of the newcomers included Tommy and Peter MacLean, son of the James MacLeans on their two ponies; little Kent Flannery, son of the Vaughn Flannerys of Cockade Farm, complete in a cowboy suit and Stetson; and—youngest rider in sight—miniature Moira MacLean, daughter of the Edward T. MacLeans, riding solemnly around the field on a miniature black Shetland named Timothy.

Pompton—Masked General

According to many of the "tip" players up in Saratoga, Pompton, Brandywine Stable's 2-year-old son of Pompey—Hilaria, by Polymelion* is the surest thing to have raced over the Spa strip this year. He went out in "The Hilarious," the 2nd race last Saturday and galloped a field of 14 maiden colts and geldings into submission. This was rather pleasing for Arthur Hancock Sr., and Arthur "Bull" Hancock, Jr., at whose Virginia "Ellerslie Stud" Pompey stands. Pompey is jointly owned by the Hancocks and Charles A. Stone and Whitney Stone who have their "Morvern Stud" nearby. Pompey's son Masked General won the Friday feature, the Champlain Handicap, almost as convincingly, beating Sickle T. who defeated him a year ago in the same Stake.

Cold Cream—Candy—Aeroplanes

The rivalry between Mrs. E. Graham Lewis (Elizabeth Arden) and Mrs. Ethel Mars (Milky Way Candy) has been of paramount interest to the "lookers" at the Saratoga Yearling Sales. With their trainers at their sides they have hooked up into bidding duels several times this year. The story goes that Hon. Leslie Combs, Agent's consignment was being sold last Wednesday night, August 7, and a very desirable Pharmon II—La Chica*, (she dam of El Chico) was in the ring. The ladies upped him in $500 and $100 bids to $12,000 then with a decisive tone W. E. Boeing, (of the Aircraft Company) came into it, threw in a $3,000 raise and the colt was his at $15,000, the high of the night.

Bay Dean's Bobble and Brooks

The Arthur Whites, of Middleburg, had hard luck in the Friday, Aug. 16 'chase at Saratoga. Bay Dean looked to be a certainty then he made a bobble at the next to the last, Jockey Brooks made one of those miracle mane-pulling recoveries as Bay Dean stayed on his feet and he was just beaten in the final 70 yards by York Miller.

Not Enough Bulge.

Though George H. Bull, Pres., and F. S. von Stade, Vice-Pres., of the Saratoga Assn., may point out that Saratoga steeplechasing this year is passing fair, that the 6 good horses who started in The North American Handicap last Saturday, Aug. 17, all stood up, the fact remains the jumps have not enough take-off bulge. "Chasers from Pimlico, Delaware Park and Belmont have become accustomed to a fairly standard fence—then they go to the Spa and there they find a different type altogether than they've been campaigning over. The fences at Saratoga this year are not consistent through the course and are not comparable to any others inspected this year.

Brookmeade Stable's Search

The High Quest 4-year-old Search ran a nice race in the Rensselaer 'Cap last Saturday, Aug. 17, at Saratoga for the Brookmeade Stable, then Jockey A. Robertson made for a hole, in a driving effort through the stretch. Search bounced over and hit Birch Rod to knock the George D. Widener color-bearer down. Jockey A. Robertson has been set down frequently before this season but this didn't look to be his fault. Search was disqualified and S. A. Warner Baltazzi's White Mask, a 12-1 shot put up.

Racing in The Raven

Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Romanov, the Ksar—Duration* $22,000 yearling in 1938, was racing in The Raven, for 3-year-old maidens last Saturday, Aug. 17 at the Spa. He broke badly, 20 lengths last, and then "very encouragingly" to Mrs. Sloane chased the 15 horse field with great speed to finish 9th 8 1-2 lengths back of Rugged Rock, who won in 1:12 4-5. John B. Hannum, Jr., the lucky man who but recently won the hand of the very fair Nancy Penn Smith, daughter of Mrs. Plunket Stewart, enjoyed seeing June O, a 6-year-old maiden by Flag Day—Hysteria run in the same race. She once carried him in the hunting field. June O got away 11th and finished 12th, hardly a mount for him affield today with his dashing bride to be, a former Foxcroft and one of the best ladies to Hounds in the land, whipping-in frequently with her father's Mr. Stewart's Ches-hire Hounds.

Two Lovely Fillies

W. H. Lipscomb was in Saratoga last Saturday to see his Redlin win the Rataplan 'Cap, Class C. This Dunlin filly is one of the most beautiful in the business. Right in the very next race, (the $10,000 Spin-away) was the beautiful Crispin Oglebay Level Best. She was favored at 4-5 and then was beaten by Nasca owned by Breckinridge Long. Mr. Oglebay had come on from Ohio for the race and could not but have been disappointed. Still the Equipoise filly's misbehavior at the barrier, which caused her to cut her mouth when she reared up, may have been extenuating. Nasca, by Rosolio, stamped herself with class in her triumph, after breaking slowly.
